NEWS REPORT

Good evening and Happy Halloween, citizens of Valley Falls.

We come to you on this most festive of nights with a breaking news alert. Ajax Black, who was convicted back in 2020 of poisoning his entire family in a scheme to claim millions in insurance payouts, has escaped from Riverbend Penitentiary. He is considered to be armed and dangerous. Be on the lookout and stay vigilant. If you see Ajax Black or have any knowledge of his whereabouts, please contact the Valley Falls police department ASAP.

In other news, we here at WTVF are nothing if not cautious when it comes to our children on Halloween night. As you take your children trick-or-treating, it's possible that you will encounter an angry dog or two if you choose the wrong houses to approach. In the spirit of the season, here are some tips for dealing with aggressive animals should you encounter them.

- Read the signs to determine if there is a dog on the premises.
- In the event there is a dog, do something to show the animal that you are friendly.
- If there is a dog and you have to approach, try not to make eye contact.
- If the dog threatens to attack, make a noise as a deterrent.
- If the dog attacks, pepper spray is effective.

We hope that these tips will help ensure that your Halloween is a safe and fun holiday filled with wonderful candy and even better fun.

And, lastly, on a somewhat more somber note, this Halloween marks the one-year anniversary of Amelia Wang's murder. Wang was viciously murdered in her home by a member of the Diagonal Church who believed that the bloodshed on such a powerful holiday would open a doorway between this world and the next. Our thoughts and prayers go out to her husband as he is, no doubt, still trying to pick up the pieces and get on with his life.
