2. Edwin - Groundskeeper
3. Zombie in the Crypt
4. Zombie Bride and Gravestones
5. Zombie with Gages
6. Location of the Cursed Item in the Ceremety
7. Cleansing Ritual - Letter 3

EDWIN- GROUNDSKEEPER

Solution:

Edwin's first clue eliminates 10 and 31.

The second clue he gives eliminates 13 and 18.

ZOMBIE IN THE CRYPT

Solution:

“more than nine letters drop the first zero”

Remove any grave plot that have more than nine letter when you spell them with out including the first zero.

ZOMBIE BRIDE AND GRAVESTONES

Solution:

These are the numbers you get from the gravestones if you follow the clue given by the zombie bride.

Remove what the big softy and the one who was surprised have in common.

19 and 20

Consider their beginning and remove what is different from the one with children, the handyman, the shiny one, the forgetful one, the one needing a nap, the surprised one, and the one who isn't wrong.

36, 12, 26, 40, 30, 32, and 21

Now consider their endings and remove what differs.
The one who needed a nap, one with a husband, and the one with no regrets.

14, 16, and 15

ZOMBIE WITH GAGES

Solution:

The zombie is saying that the grave plot you are looking for is not one of the plots that have two of the same numbers beside each other. Like numbers that have 00 or 11 in them.

CLEANSING RITUAL - LETTER 3

Solution:

Two words make my name, but probably not how you think. If you only had one, you might be quite rich. But with the other, all frowns turn upside down. What am I?

marigolds

I am a protector. And though I can be found on both land and sea. That does not mean you can always see me. What am I?

salt

Gather a bunch of me, and I can help you clean. If you stick me in your cap, you could call me macaroni. I come from a symbol of love. What am I?
