HOW DID THE GHOUL GET IN?

Password:
winedelivery

Solution: Matthew mentioned that Franco asked him to leave the rest of the bottle of red wine since he had nothing else to drink. But we learn from the note about Additional Evidence that “a near-empty bottle of red wine, and a sealed bottle of Château Lumière Noire wine” was found in the room. Also on the to-do list in the notes app on Franco’s phone, he mentions that he didn’t bring any wine with him. So the question is, if Franco didn’t bring it, and Matthew, the last person other than the killer to see Franco alive, didn’t bring it, who brought a sealed bottle of Château Lumière Noire wine to Franco’s room? The conclusion is that the Ghoul must have done this and used the ruse of making a wine delivery to get into Franco’s room.

SUSPECT ELIMINATION

Gram McKinney - You need to unlock Officer Tucker and Blaine Wyatt, then compare the emails. McKinney's email is the only one that is not on the Patrons4U list.

Nathanael Bates - Listen to the audio interviews from the phone and solve the number cipher. One of the interviews mentions that Bates had a good relationship with his parents.

Louie Jackson - You need to unlock the "How did the Ghoul get out of Franco's room?" question to eliminate a suspect. The exit to the secret passage is too narrow for a large man like Jackson to pass through.

Philip Walsh - Solve the cipher with the shapes and then look through the five photos. The utility corridor is underground, and the cipher mentions Walsh hates being underground. So this eliminates him.

Melvin Thornton - solve the 3rd cipher and unlock the "How did the Ghoul get into Franco's room?" question to eliminate a suspect.
